SWE-HA Oct Professional Development Event

Real-Life Advice for Your Personal Brand

As Conference approaches, make sure your public presence is polished and ready. Join oil & gas industry leader Janeen Judah for her practical advice on building your presence through social media and how managers and recruiters use social media. Janeen will also have practical tips on how to network to managers and recruiters at Conference and other social events. The events will be online, interactive and informal - real-life practical advice from an engineering leader.

Join us at Bar Boheme in Montrose on Thursday October 11th starting at 5pm for Happy Hour, presentation at 6pm. Professionals will be available to review resumes after the presentation and you're welcome to stick around for networking. Dinner and first drink included, cash bar the rest of the evening.

Date: Thursday October 11, 2018

Time: 5 - 9 pm

RSVP by September 27th

World's Largest Conference
For Women Engineers - Date

Approaching

WE18's theme, Let's Break Boundaries is rooted in the notion that all women engineers, young and old, veterans, those in the early stages of their career, and engineers still pursuing their collegiate degree, are breaking boundaries both personally and for women across the globe.

The conference itself breaks boundaries by being the largest gathering of women engineers across all major engineering disciplines. Facing challenges and breaking through barriers is something SWE has done since its inception in 1950. 2018 and WE18 will be no exception.

This Fall, Introduce a Girl to Engineering Day will be hosted on Saturday, November 10. This event is geared towards 7th-9th grade students. In addition, alongside our IAGTE program for students, there will be a Parent Educator Program (PEP) for parents and educators.

IAGTE is a day established to help young women understand the opportunities available in the field of engineering. IAGTE activities include participating in hands-on, engineering related activities throughout the day.

This is a free event and we encourage individual student registration and school groups. Please share this event with your family and friends!

For any questions please email: sfisch886@gmail.com
